

GOVERNMENT OPENS CONSPIRACY CASE

Witness Asserts German Naval Attache Directed Expenditure of Money

ADMIT SUPPLYING SHIPS

Defense Does Not Admit Intent to Deceive or Defraud as Charged in Indictment

G.B. KULENKAMPFF TESTIFIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—In the alleged conspiracy of several Hamburg-American steamship line officials to deceive and defraud the United States by sending neutral relief ships with coal and other supplies to German men of war in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans at the beginning of the European war, Captain K. Boy-Ed, German naval attache with headquarters at the German embassy in Washington, played a leading role, according to witnesses who testified in the federal court here today. One of these witnesses asserted on the stand that Captain Boy-Ed personally directed the expenditure of approximately $750,000 which, uncollected and unexpected, had been deposited to the witnesses' credit in a New York banking house early in September, 1914. Of this money the witness testified, $350,000 was telegraphed to the Nevada National Bank at San Francisco in one lump sum; $213,000 was paid, in several amounts to the North German Lloyd steamship line here; about $75,000 to the Hamburg-American line here and by cable money order in Hamburg and some of the remainder was still on hand. All of these disbursements the witness asserted, were made by order of Captain Boy-Ed.

Several witnesses testified. This witness, Gustav B. Kulenkampff, a German importer and exporter with offices here, and others testified in the trial of Dr. Karl Benz, Adolph Hachmeister, George Kotter and Joseph Poppenhaus, officials of the Hamburg-American line who are charged with conspiracy in having directed the loading and dispatching of sixteen vessels to the relief of a half dozen or more German warships isolated from supplies.

The testimony which virtually opened the government's case followed a short address to the jury by Roger B. Wood, assistant United States district attorney in which Mr. Wood said the government would show that "the defendants rode rough-shod over the laws and treaties of the United States as contemptuously as if those laws and treaties had been mere scraps of paper."

William Rand, counsel for the defendants, offered to concede certain charges of the government involving twelve steamers and in his concession admitted that Dr. Benz and his associates had sent out the vessels as charged to meet German warships in the Atlantic and deliver their supplies.

Acted on Legitimate Orders.

Mr. Rand said that in sending these vessels his clients were acting upon legitimate orders which came to them by cable from the home office of the company in Hamburg. But the government lawyers rejected the concession and sought to prove their case out of the mouths of witnesses.

"The defense is not willing to admit the facts; it is trying to smother them," was Mr. Wood's retort to Mr. Rand's offer.

"Quite to the contrary," replied Mr. Rand smilingly. "We are willing to admit that $750,000 has been spent as the government is trying so hard to prove. We are willing to go further—we will admit that $2,000,000 of German money was spent in chartering and supplying vessels for relief of German warships."

"And how much more?" asked Mr. Wood.

"That is all I know of," was the reply.

Do Not Admit Intent to Deceive.

"But admitting the facts, we do not admit the intent to deceive or defraud, as charged in the indictment."

Kulenkampff's story on the witness stand was that he had been summoned by telephone to the Hamburg-American line offices here on the afternoon of Aug. 6th, 1914, and there had met Dr. Benz, John H. Gans, now dead; Kotter and Hachmeister. They had told him they wanted him to clear two American steamers the Lorenzo and the Berwind, loaded with coal, with all possible speed—that afternoon. It then lacked only half an hour of closing time at the customs house and Kulenkampff hesitated to do as they asked, because he was not in the custom of clearing ships.

"They told me," he said, "that they did not want the Hamburg-American line to appear in the transaction."

POLITICAL FIGHT MAY DEVELOP TODAY

SENATE TO TAKE ACTION ON PRIMARY ELECTION BILL

Practically All Remedial Financial Bills are Advanced to Third Reading by Senate—To Adjourn over Thanksgiving.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 23.—The expected political fight in the special session of the legislature over amendments to the state primary law, may take definite form tomorrow in the senate. That body tonight postponed action until tomorrow morning on the first primary election bill to come before the extraordinary session for consideration.

Ettelson Introduces Measure.

The measure was introduced by Senator Ettelson, corporation counsel of Chicago, and provides that the nominations of the six superior court judges to be elected in Cook county next June, be made by direct election vote instead of the county committees as the law provides.

Action on the measure which was reported out of committee was deferred tonight because the bill had not been printed.

Practically all of the state, Chicago and Cook county appropriation and remedial financial bills, which necessitated the calling of the special session were acted on by senate committees and advanced to third reading tonight when they were considered on the floor.

To Adjourn over Thanksgiving.

Tomorrow the senate expects to take final action on most of these measures and then adjourn over Thanksgiving until next Monday.

Mrs. H. M. Brown, of Peoria, recently elected president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, addressed the senate briefly this evening.

The house members marked time today and discussed appropriation measures in committee awaiting passage by the senate of the appropriation measures.

Senator Compton tonight offered a resolution providing that the secretary of state be ordered to furnish the members with soap, towels, drinking water and other supplies. The resolution went over until tomorrow.

Refuses to Furnish Supplies.

Because of the supreme court's decision on the Ferguson suit, the secretary has refused to furnish these supplies to the special session.

The Compton resolution asserts that the last legislature appropriated $15,000 to the secretary for such supplies for the members, that $3,000 of this amount remains unexpended and that the balance should be expended on the special session.

In a session tonight lasting until nearly ten o'clock, the house advanced most of the state appropriation bills made necessary by the Ferguson suit. They will not be acted upon finally until next week after the Thanksgiving recess.

DEFENSE WILL BE KEYNOTE OF MESSAGE

Wilson Discusses Subjects to Be Dealt With at Cabinet Meeting

TO EMPHASIZE REASONS

President Will Insist that United States Must Be Ready to Defend Its Rights

SUPPORT GARRISON'S PLAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Wilson's next annual address to congress, it was learned definitively tonight, will be devoted primarily to a discussion of national defense and the subject of revenues.

Reach Unanimity of Opinion.

It will, however, refer to other legislative questions upon which the president expects congress to act during the coming session. The president discussed subjects to be dealt with at today's cabinet meeting and unanimity of opinion was reached by the official family as to what should be the general character of the document.

Reasons for strengthening the army and navy will be emphasized at length by the president. "For defense" will be the keynote of his argument, and declaring that the United States has a humanitarian mission of peace in the world, he will insist that under present conditions, when all Europe is at war, the United States must be ready to defend its right to independent and unimpaired action.

Support Continental Army Plan.

The continental army plan proposed by Secretary Garrison for the training of 400,000 citizen soldiers in the next three years in annual contingents of 133,000 is to be strongly supported.

In his last annual message to congress, in which he opposed large additional expenditures on the army and navy, the president declared it was proper that young men should be given an opportunity to learn to be soldiers "in such times as they can command a little freedom."

He will repeat this idea this year and express the opinion that the plans submitted by the army general staff call for a standing force larger than the country wants.

The navy plans also will be printed as a carry-over drawn up after consultation with experts and after taking note of the lessons taught by the European war. The necessity of providing men, munitions and equipment will be declared as necessary as the building of warships.

The administration plans to urge a merchant marine bill in connection with the need for more auxiliaries for the navy and the president is expected to make some mention of this subject in his message.

In addition to national defense the president will take up conservation, including the water power and mineral land leasing measures which failed of passage at the last session. He is known to be as much in favor of these bills as ever.

Two other subjects to be included in the message are the bill giving a great degree of self government to the Philippines and rural credits legislation.

TAKES FIRST STEP WITH VIEW TO BUILDING WARSHIPS IN U.S. YARDS

Daniels Asks Steel Makers to Submit Bids for 62,000,000 Pounds of Structural Steel for Two Battleships.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Secretary Daniels announced today he had taken the first step with a view to building in government navy yards, battleships numbers 43 and 44, private bids for which exceeded the cost limit fixed by congress. The department asked steel makers throughout the country to submit before Wednesday of next week bids on 62,000,000 pounds of structural steel for these two ships, with statements of the earliest possible date at which they could make delivery.

All private bids for the ships opened last week exceeded $8,000,000 while the limit fixed by congress is $7,800,000 for the costs of hulls and machinery. Navy yard estimates from the Philadelphia, New York and Mare Island yards were below the $7,000,000 mark with the exception of the Mare Island figures, which included the estimated cost of equipping the yard for the work.

Secretary Daniels has indicated that the Norfolk yard and possibly the Puget Sound yard at Bremerton, Wash., will be considered when awarding. Neither yard now is equipped for battleship building.

To avoid delay the secretary did not advertise for the steel bids in the usual way. The three navy yards which submitted figures on construction of the battleships already had obtained estimates on steel and the secretary's action not only will confirm these estimates but will put them in such form that they become binding contracts when accepted. All the private bidders gave the increasing cost of structural steel and inability to obtain early delivery from the steel companies as factors in determining the amount of their bids and the time required for construction.

DAUGHTER OF PRINCETON U. HEAD WEDS PROF. R. M. SCOON

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 23.—Miss Elizabeth Grier Hibben, daughter of President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University, was married here this afternoon to Prof. Robert Maxwell Scoon of the classical department.

After the wedding a reception was held in Prospect, the campus home of the bride's parents, at which many distinguished visitors as well as members of the faculty and trustees were present.

TAKE KNIFE FROM STOMACH.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—The table knife which Mrs. Elizabeth Hochberger finally persuaded surgeons she had swallowed while in a delirium eight months ago, was taken from her stomach today by an operation.

The knife was corroded and saw edged from the action of the stomach acids and physicians said that nature had made her best efforts to digest the implement. The woman rallied well from the operation.

HOPPE DEFEATS COCHRAN.

New York, Nov. 23.—Willie Hoppe had no trouble tonight in defending his title as balk line billiard champion against Welker Cochran, the young Iowa boy billiardist in the deciding contest of the 182 handicap billiard tournament. Cochran was defeated by 500 to 218, his handicap being 200 points. Cochran's showing was somewhat of a disappointment as he had been able to defeat all the other billiard stars in the tournament.

BISHOP MOORE DIES.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 23.—Bishop H. Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church who was stricken with paralysis on a train while returning to his home here early today died tonight.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Nov. 23.—Charles Newhouse, a barber of Fairfield, Iowa, was struck by a Burlington train in this city tonight and instantly killed. He is survived by a widow in Fairfield.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 23.—Edmund Perkins of Chicago came here today to arrange for the National drainage congress which will meet inairo Jan. 19. Mayor Wood of Cairo cabled to Cairo, Egypt, asking Sir William Willcocks, builder of the Assuan dam, to attend the congress.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The judgment convicting Haas Schmidt, the former New York priest, of the murder of Anna Tumuller was upheld by the court of appeals today the opinion was unanimous.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the vice president of the United States, passed a fairly good night and was reported to be in good condition today. She underwent an abdominal operation at a local hospital yesterday.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Nov. 23.—Freight, ordinarily billed thru from western points to the Atlantic seaboard, is being transferred to cars of the eastern lines in the great terminal yards here that the cars of the western roads may not be tied up in the congestion of Atlantic ports.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Emil Miehlee and Herman Krauss of Chicago, Greek merchants required special permits, as the export of coal from the British Isles is allowed only under special license. There are many other commodities, the export of which is permitted only to certain countries. Invariably when orders have been issued against the export of such commodities, Greece has been among the countries excepted.

Believe Greece Will Concede.

Now, unless she concedes the demands made by the allies for assurances for the safety of their troops in the Balkans, Greece will be struck off the list of countries which have these privileges. While this less vigorous attitude on the part of the allied governments has caused some dissatisfaction in quarters where strong measures are advocated, it has eased the situation and the belief now prevails that Greece, having been impressed by Lord Kitchener's visit and the threat to her commerce will concede the demands.

Of the fighting in the Balkans the reports are more confusing than ever. The German accounts still claim progress for the Austro-German and Bulgarian troops and recount the capture of thousands of prisoners and many guns from the Serbians, but from the towns mentioned their advance appears very slow.

May Be Waiting on Change.

It may be, as reported from Italian sources, that the campaign is waiting on a change in the disposition of the armies so that the Germans may be the first to enter Montenegro. This would avoid the trouble likely to arise thru Greek objection to Bulgarian occupation of the city so near their border.

Dispatches from Athens, however, state that the delay is due to the fact that the Serbians have defeated the Bulgarians who were advancing on the town and that the Serbians have re-occupied their front on the Vardar river line. Perhaps the real reason for the slowness of the invaders' progress arises from difficulties of transport.

Attempt Offensive in Galicia.

The Austro-Germans, according to Russian reports, attempted an offensive in Galicia and actually moved some advance guards across the Stripa, but since then no news has been received, the Germans apparently not considering the operation worthy of mention in their official report.

In the west the artillery is still active and the revival of clear, cold weather may make possible an offensive movement by one side or the other. The Germans are reported to have brought large reinforcements to Flanders but whether for offensive or defensive purpose time alone will tell.

SCENES OF REVELRY MARK PASSING OF EAST GRAND FORK'S SALOONS

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 23.—Scenes of revelry marked the passing tonight of the thirty-three saloons of East Grand Forks, known for years as the "wettest city" in Minnesota.

The saloons were voted out in a recent county option election after being in existence since the city's foundation in 1889, when North Dakota was a "dry" state. At one time there was one saloon to every forty-five inhabitants. Only a short bridge separates the town from Grand Forks, N. D.

ARRES MARSHALL ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO MURDER

Is Charged With Keeping Daughter a Prisoner in Attic for Eleven Years.

Easton, Md., Nov. 23.—Frank Marshall, father of Grace Marshall, who it is said was kept a prisoner in an attic in the Marshall home for eleven years, was arrested today charged with assault with intent to murder. Subsequently a writ charging Mrs. Marshall with assault was issued but she was not arrested tonight. The warrants were obtained by Miss Emma Davis, agent for the Children's Aid Society, who was instrumental in effecting Miss Marshall's liberation last week.

In his cell tonight Marshall said he had been treated outrageously.

"Why, Grace got everything in the world I could give her."

The young woman was reported to be in a serious condition at the home of her aunt where she was taken from her father's house. She slept but little last night and was said to be weaker today.

STATE MAY REVOKE HAISELDEN'S LICENSE

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH SECRETARY TAKES UP CASE

Asks Coroner Hoffman for Transcript of Evidence in Inquest Over the Bollinger Baby, Who Was Allowed to Die.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 23.—Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health, tonight wrote Coroner Peter Hoffman of Cook county for a transcript of the evidence in the inquest over the body of the Bollinger baby, who was allowed to die at six days of age because of supposed irremediable deformities.

Dr. Drake stated that he would make a careful study of the facts in the case with a view to possible revocation of the license to practice in Illinois of Dr. J. H. Haiselden, the Chicago surgeon, who settled the fate of the infant.

"I am not in a position to say what action will be taken," said Dr. Drake, "but I can at least promise that the case will be given my careful consideration. I have received a large number of demands from both professional sources and from the laity demanding that the circumstances surrounding the baby's death be investigated."

The Bollinger infant died last Wednesday six days after birth.

PLANS OF GEN. OBREGON TO CAPTURE VILLA FORCES FAIL

Capture of Cananea Proves an Empty Victory for Rodriguez Eludes Obregon and Escapes.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 23.—The plans of General Alvaro Obregon, Carranza commander-in-chief to capture in Cananea, the Villa forces of General Jose Rodriguez have failed. The capture of Cananea, which Obregon now holds, was an empty victory. It was intimated in Carranza circles today, for Rodriguez, eluding Obregon, escaped.

The Villa commander with a large force has been located enroute to Nogales to reinforce Villa troops already there.

While no official expression could be obtained in Agua Prieta today it was intimated in official circles that some of Obregon's commanders to whom was assigned the task of closing all roads from Cananea "failed miserably" and that because of the failure Obregon's plans of campaign require a complete readjustment.

VILLA ADHERENTS AND INDIANS MAKE ANOTHER RAID ON LOS MOCHIS

Looting of American Property is Called to the Attention of Secretary Lansing—May Send Warship to Nearest Port.

Topolobampo, Mexico, by radio to San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Villa adherents and Indians made another raid on Los Mochis, Sinaloa, on Nov. 20th and 21st, according to reports received by the Los Mochis American colony which has taken refuge here. The Mexicans and Indians are said to have sacked every residence. All livestock was driven off the nearby plantations.

Calls Lansing's Attention.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Looting of American property at Los Mochis, Mexico, in which Chicago people are interested was called to the attention of Secretary Lansing today by Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, who asserted that both the de facto government and the Villa forces were responsible for the condition of insecurity there.

Secretary Lansing conferred about the situation with Secretary Daniels of the navy. It was said later that one of the American warships along the western Mexico coast might be sent to Topolobampo, the nearest port of the scene. No orders had been issued tonight, however.

MAKING WITHDRAW GREEK PRIVILEGES

Allies Have Not Declared a General Blockade of Greek Ports

REPORTS ARE CONFUSING

German Accounts Still Claim Progress and Capture of Men and Guns from Serbs

ADVANCE APPEARS VERY SLOW

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Instead of declaring a general blockade of the Greek ports, the allies have, according to a statement issued by the British foreign office today, withdrawn or threatened to withdraw the special privileges which Greek commerce has enjoyed since the outbreak of the war. What these special privileges are is not specifically stated but as an example Greece has been allowed to draw her supplies of coal from Welsh collieries. To do this Greek merchants required special permits, as the export of coal from the British Isles is allowed only under special license. There are many other commodities, the export of which is permitted only to certain countries. Invariably when orders have been issued against the export of such commodities, Greece has been among the countries excepted.

Medical Law May Be Tested.

The refusal of the City Board of Health of Springfield to allow Dr. Emory Ennis to sign a death certificate probably will bring about a test of the law prohibiting osteopaths from signing death certificates. The City Board of Health acted under the provision of the new state law. Dr. Ennis declares the state law discriminates between medical practitioners and osteopaths and for this reason believes the law to be invalid.

Methodist Membership Increasing.

The membership of the Methodist church in the north now numbers 4,033,123, according to official statistics issued. The net increase in membership last year was 164,000. The report shows that Methodism is losing memberships slowly in New England, holding its own in the New York district, and growing most rapidly in Philadelphia, Chicago, Omaha and Minneapolis. The Methodist church now has 4,497,000 Sunday-school children, a gain last year of 213,800, the largest increase in its history. There are 30,000 Methodist ministers. Methodist property in America is worth $327,341,000. The annual expenses of the church are $40,000,000.

Some weeks before he died and before he was taken ill, the late humorist, George Fitch, wrote one of his best pocket essays on "Appendicitis," and it was published in the newspapers of Nov. 18, two months or more after his death. This short essay is full of that characteristic humor for Mr. Fitch was noted. Then strange to say, Mr. Fitch came down with the disease himself and died of it. Then, months after, comes the publication of this amusing dissertation on the ailment.

It surely seems like the irony of fate that gifted man should die of a disease which weeks before he had made the subject of playful jest, the article appearing subsequent to his death.

An Unexpected Tribute.

The almost startling news comes by wireless from Berlin that the Association of German Mechanical Engineers at its session recommended the adoption of the American elementary school system. This unexpected tribute again emphasizes the fact that we do not fully appreciate the blessings we have. Recently we pointed out a St. Louis habit, says the Globe-Democrat, of disparaging everything at home and dwelling on how much better things are elsewhere.

But lack of appreciation is apparently not restricted to St. Louis; it is a national failing. We are not overmodest about the totality of our achievements. There breathes no American with soul so dead that he does not consider America the greatest country in the world. But when particulars are considered, fault-finding begins. Our art, our music, our literature, our achievements, our realm of pure science, our municipal

LITTLE THINGS.

Little horns of whiskey, little cups of beer, make a gent feel frisky as a tall roan steer. For a little season he feels passing well, and he sees no reason why he shouldn't yell. Then the peckers cart him to the village jail, and the judge will part him from his bunch of kale. If he has no money says the jurist then, "Break some boulders, sonny, with the other men." There a while he'll languish, young man in the hole, while green streaks of anguish sizzle through his soul.

"Little drops of bit-ers lend amusement brief, then will land poor critters in some kind of grief. If it isn't falling it is something worse; ask the woman wailing round that pauper hearse. Little steaming toddlers, taken now and then, ruin minds and bodies of all kinds of men. For the more you swallow, they the louder cry, for some more to follow, which you can't deny. Little tots of branny, little slugs of gin, show the short and handy way to be all in.

governments, our railway service, the care of our unfortunate and a multitude of other things are contrasted with those of Europe, to the disparagement of America.

German Methods.

The Independent says that one of the difficulties of defeating Germany is that the allies do not yet understand what Germany is fighting for. The French still talk of war in terms of glory and revenge. The English speak of war as a kind of sport, "as it were almost cricket—as it were even your play," to quote from Kipling's "Islanders."

But for the Germans war is a business to be conducted in a business-like way for certain practical advantages. They care more for the capture of a factory than a fortress. They attack railroad stations, not capitals. They would turn aside from a royal castle to capture a coal mine or an oil well. Napoleon, with his medieval imagination, had his eyes fixed upon Moscow at its Kremlin; Hindenburg is better pleased to have Lodz and its cotton mills. Consequently those who follow the German campaign with maps that omit railroads and natural resources can have little conception of its aims and achievements.

Pick Better Solons.

We are in receipt of the following from the Legislative Voters' league of the state and it indicates the lines along which the league proposes to vote, and there is a great deal in what is said worth considering.

"More big men of affairs for membership in the general assembly," is to be the slogan of the Legislative Voters' league in a propaganda to arouse home interest in the legislative body of the state. The first step in this campaign was made public today, when it was announced the league is to establish a speakers' bureau that will be available to any organization of individuals that may want lectures on the workings of the legislature. There will be no cost to those who apply to the bureau for speakers.

"We hope this new plan will bring two results," Clifford W. Barnes (so well known here) president of the league said. "First, we trust that a general discussion of legislative topics before organizations of citizens will cause them to take greater interest in legislative matters; second, we are confident that if public spirited men do show a more lively interest in matters pertaining to the general assembly they will see to it that their representatives in the legislature are men of character and ability."

"It is an unfortunate fact, but nevertheless true, that the ordinary citizen pays only slight attention to the state legislature. It is probable that only a small proportion of citizens realize that the assembly really comes closer to them than do the smaller local governments, including that of the city. They forget that the state lawmaking body is all-powerful under our state constitution and that it is of more importance than that it be made up of real representatives of the people than any other law-creating body elected under our form of government."

To Vote on Every Measure.

Every item included in Governor Dunne's special session call is to be brought upon the floor of the general assembly and voted up or down as the majority wills. This was the consensus of judgment among Republican senate and house leaders. Since the Democrats unquestionably will favor this action, it is likely that no change in the program will follow.

The decision to give every subject a chance on roll call was reached after the Republican steering committee of the house had gone on record in favor of eliminating from legislative consideration the last three subjects in the governor's call. These are the recommendations for proposed amendment to the constitution which would allow the governor to slice appropriations; amend the state primary law and changing the procedure of enjoining the payment of public funds from the state treasury.

After voting to eliminate these three subjects from legislative consideration, the house Republican steering committee named a committee of three to invite a conference with the Republican senators to outline a course of procedure. When the conference met the senators showed a disposition to act upon everything and, while no test was taken, the senate attitude was accepted as the will of the majority.

It was also decided that necessary appropriation bills would be given the right of way and pushed to early passage. Members of both branches indicated a determination to spend as little time as possible in Springfield and it is doubtful whether a quorum of either branch can be gotten together after next week without sending out a special appeal after all matters not previously disposed of are in shape for a final vote.

EASTERN STAR HAS INITIATION AND BANQUET

Pleasant Gathering of Order at Winchester—Song Recital by Mrs. Charles Gorman—Other Scott County News.

The Eastern Star held a most interesting meeting Monday night at which time Mrs. Humphreys of Chicago, Grand Worthy Matron, was the guest of honor. She was heard in a splendid address after which she was presented a solid silver mayonnaise set. Misses Catherine Bringle, Marguerite Priest and Mildred Funk were received into the order and Mrs. Gus Strouse by application. A part of the program consisted of a solo by Miss Louise Frost.

Following the work the guests were invited to the dining hall which was artistically decorated in the colors of the order. Toasts were given by J. A. McKeene, Earl Nelson, R. M. Riggs, W. D. Gibbs, Dr. H. H. Fletcher, Judge Funk and Dr. W. S. Gibson. After the speaking the members were guests at the Lyric theatre thru the kindness of the proprietors, Paul and Overton.

Mrs. Gorman's Recital.

A song recital by Mrs. Charles Gorman assisted by the Winchester orchestra given in the M. E. church Tuesday evening proved a rare musical treat to the large audience present. Mrs. Gorman possesses a voice of wide range and interprets with a great deal of musical understanding. She was in splendid voice last night and the audience was not slow to show its appreciation. The orchestra also found favor with the audience, and both were called on for encores. Mrs. J. W. Eckman accompanied the orchestra on the piano and pipe organ and Mr. Gorman played the accompaniment for the singer.

ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA COMES FOR CONCERT TONIGHT

The St. Louis Symphony orchestra will arrive in Jacksonville this afternoon and will present a program at the Grand theatre tonight, which will be wonderful for its beauty and meaning to every one who cares at all for music in its best form.

The orchestra has never met with as large attendance at its concerts nor as enthusiastic receptions in every way as it has received on its present tour. This is attributed to the work which the orchestra is doing, and the unusually attractive programs which Conductor Zach has arranged, with particular attention to the wishes and demands of its audiences.

Besides being the greatest musical event of the year, it is regarded as being an educational opportunity of equal importance. Much interest has been shown in the numbers which will be played and local music lovers have studied with great attention to detail the compositions which are on the program which will be presented as follows:

Prelude to "Lohengrin"; Wagner. Suite No. 2 "Indian"; MacLennan. I. Legend. II. Love Song. III. In war time. IV. Dirge. V. Village Festival.

Overture to "Oberon"; Weber. "Havanna"; for Violin and orchestra; Saint-Saens.

Symphonic poem No. 3, "Les Preludes"; Liszt.

New Nuts; Malaga Grapes; Figs, Dates, Grapefruit, Oranges, Apples, Walker's Grocery.

FRANKLIN MAY OBTAIN LIGHT FROM JACKSONVILLE PLANT

Murrayville is also figuring on the same proposition and Woodson may join to make the trio.

W. B. Miser spent Tuesday in Franklin and Murrayville inspecting the prospects of furnishing light to the two towns. A committee was recently appointed from the Murrayville Business Men's association to confer with the Jacksonville Light and Power Company, but as yet no action has been taken. It will be recalled that last Sunday the light plant at Franklin burned and the people of that town find great inconvenience now, to do without lights. It is possible that if Franklin does not get power from Jacksonville, that the citizens themselves will try to build a new plant. Some time ago the citizens of Woodson were talking over some means of obtaining lights and it is possible that if Murrayville succeeds in her project that Woodson will "be on the line".

ALR SQUAD SOLVES MANY NEW PROBLEMS IN FLIGHT TO AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 23.—The aero squad of the United States solved many new problems in their flight today from Waco to Austin, part of their cross-country trip from Fort Sill, Okla., to San Antonio, Tex. All six of the machines reached Austin safely, but not until four of them had been lost for nearly two hours in a haze which caused several of the machines to drift nearly fifty miles westward of their course.

Three of the machines were forced to land in unmarked territory to get their bearings. The aviators accomplished the landings successfully, a feat which was regarded as of especial value during a trip planned to test the efficiency of the machines by conditions as near as possible to actual warfare.

CONFERENCES FAIL TO BRING EARLY SETTLEMENT OF LUSITANIA ISSUES

Persons in Position to Know State Points of View of Governments are Still Widely Different.

Washington, Nov. 23.—A series of conferences between Secretary Lansing and Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, has failed thus far to bring the United States and Germany near an early settlement of the issues which grew out of the sinking of the Lusitania, with a loss of more than 100 American lives. It was said today by persons in a position to know that the points of view of the two governments still were widely different.

In German circles the belief was expressed that a satisfactory agreement could not be reached without arbitration. Officials of the state department were more optimistic, however, the opinion seems to prevail that ultimately Germany would come to the American way of viewing the situation. It is stated on authority that offer has been made to indemnify the families of Americans lost in the disaster. It had been reported that the German government offered to pay an indemnity of $5,000 for each life lost, but it is stated that neither this figure or any other has been named in the conference.

After a parley of several minutes during which Kulenkampf told them he had a brother in business in Buenos Aires, he decided that he would accommodate them and swear to the clearance manifests, giving his name as shipper and his brother in Buenos Aires as consignee.

Accordingly he went to the customs house and did so, and the vessels sailed without delay.

It developed from stories told on the stand by succeeding witnesses that Captain Edward Falkenberg of the Berwind, had likewise sworn to a manifest, giving the shipment aboard the vessel as coal, and that a supplemental manifest was not made till the next day to cover certain cases of provisions and oils which a gang of stevedores had been loading on the Berwind all day and night.

Fined Capt. Falkenberg.

For swearing falsely to the manifest, it developed, Captain Falkenberg was fined $500 by the port authorities here last December. This money was paid in the captain's behalf, by the New York and Porto Rico steamship company, the Berwind's owners.

"And was the $500 repaid to you?" Mr. Wood asked Frank D. Mooney, president of the company.

"It was," Mr. Mooney testified. "It came to us thru our attorneys. I understand they received it from the Hamburg-American line."

LAST SURVIVING CHARTER MEMBER OF URANIA LODGE PASSES AWAY

Col. W. D. Crowell Died in Ocala, Fla., for a Great Many Years He Resided in Tacoma, Wash.

Word has been received in this city of the recent death of Col. W. D. Crowell at a hospital in Ocala, Fla. Col. Crowell was the last surviving charter member of Urania lodge, No. 243, I. O. O. F., and was held in high esteem by the brothers. He was buried in Ocala by Tuluia lodge, No. 22, I. O. O. F., of Ocala.

He was born on a farm in Hamilton, Ohio, Feb. 18, 1831, and lived in Cincinnati till the latter part of October, 1849, when he removed to this place, remained two years, went back to Cincinnati and stayed two years and then returned to Jacksonville, where he remained till the beginning of the Civil war when he received an appointment under Col. Abner Yates, engineer in chief of the city of Springfield. Gov. Richard Yates appointed him colonel of artillery and engineer in chief January 1st, 1862, and he continued in office under Gov. Oglesby as chief of ordnance until the end of that governor's term when he returned to Jacksonville and remained here until 1876 when he went to Springfield and received an appointment in the office of George Harlow, Secretary of state and continued in that office until the election of Henry Dement as secretary of state when he went to the office of Capt. Charles P. Swigert, state auditor, where he re-

Some Topics of the Farm

J. R. Kelly who lives a few miles northeast of the city, says he has been on the same farm 35 years and the soil today is better than it was when he first took charge. A part of it is prairie and a part cleared land or what might be termed barrens. This year Mr. Kelly has a good crop of corn on land just on the edge of prairie soil but would rank as yellow and he will have some 55 bushels to the acre. He likes the Reid Yellow Dent best and sends northward for his seed which he deems wise. His field is the second year out of clover and the sample is good. He likes fallow plowing but is not always in shape to accomplish it. He first discs his field and then plows it and cross harrows the land so as to get a good seed bed.

As soon as the corn is up he goes over it with a corrugated roller and thoroely gets ahead of the weeds by two or three treatments of that kind while the corn is yet small. This year the wet weather set in so early he had no change to cultivate his corn but once and naturally the weeds got a good start and kept it. When weather will permit he plows two or three times deep while the corn is small and then shallow the rest of the time. Last year he cultivated with the disc three times, thus stirring up the ground and making a dust mulch on top and not disturbing the roots.

He differs from most of the farmers of the country in that he doesn't turn his stalks under but turns them in order to get rid of the insects and pests that may find lodgement there and do greater damage than would be overcome by plowing under the stalks. He says there are a few bugs to be found even yet though the wet weather did them such damage during the spring and summer.

For wheat he prefers the Turkey Red even if it has the beard which are so troublesome. He threshes from the shock and his field yielded 28 bushels to the acre. He sows a bushel and three pecks to the acre. He hasn't yet arrived at the place where he thinks crushed limestone is a good thing and insists his land is better than it was 35 years ago.

He uses Texas oats and this year had sixty bushels to the acre which he calls good. They were good and well matured and will do well for seed.

For hogs he prefers the reliable Poland China breed and takes care to get good types. He doesn't take any stock in vaccination but does take good care of the food the hogs get. He uses some slop and sees to it that they have as much green stuff as possible and then corn. He tries to have the sows farrow in March and September and gets the animals ready for market when they are about nine months old making them weigh 250 to 275 pounds each. He has now some April pigs that will weigh 235 pounds each at a trifling over seven months. He likes a long shed with family partitions in it as he can thus look after the stock to better advantage. He believes in good clear water for the hogs and clear food with comfortable quarters for them.

Way & Hairgrove yesterday delivered to Amos Clark of Litterberry five spring gilts that averaged over 200 lbs. They are just six months old and their frame and weight show the excellent stock from which they come. Mr. Clark already had five registered Poland China hogs and intends eventually to have nothing but registered stock on his farm.

The Prairie Farmer in a recent issue has an article describing the barn and concrete covered yards on the farm of Clyde H. Hall of Kaua county. Mr. Hall is a son of the late Dr. F. H. Hall, who was at one time superintendent of the Illinois School for the Blind. Mr. Hall while here held a business position at the school and devoted considerable attention to the development of the Holstein herd there.

The concrete barnyard described in the article mentioned has a total area of 75 by 125 feet and is divided into four sections. Two of the sections, one to be used for horses and the other for young stock, have been covered with cinders instead of concrete. The two cemented lots will be used by the dairy herd principally, the hogs may run with the cows at times. One of these lots is 33 by 54 and has been in use for over two months. The first thing built was the concrete watering tank, which is 15 feet wide, 8 feet long and about 20 inches deep, and is so located that animals in three divisions of the barnyard may use it. Mr. Hall kept this tank down to moderate proportions because his water system is so arranged that a supply tank in the barn fills the outdoor tank and there is no need for a large supply of water standing outdoors to freeze in winter or become distastefully warm in summer. On a large part of this barnyard the natural slope affords excellent drainage. The concrete was laid in sections about 8 feet square and on account of its thickness 2 by 4s were used conveniently to hold the material in place until it set. In the past it has not been the custom to put in concrete barnyards by sections, and to that fact may be attributed most of the cracking found in this kind of cement work. When there are no sections, expansion and contraction due to hot and cold weather causes the concrete to heave and crack. The mixture used by Mr. Hall was composed of one part cement and five parts gravel. No special mixture was used to coat the surface of the yard, which was left in the rough condition to prevent animals from slipping. While constructing this yard

Mr. Hall was able to secure the loan of a concrete mixer and this cut down his construction cost considerably. Counting the cost of cement at $1.40 per barrel, rent on a concrete mixer at $25, and gravel at 50c a yard, a concrete barnyard of the same size as that on Mr. Hall's splendid farm can be made at a cost of $200 exclusive of labor.

More Dairy Herds Needed.
Farm life gives the following good reasons why farmers should increase their dairy herds:

First—Because there never was a time when dairy products were in such demand, easier to produce, or more profitable.

Second—Because dairy cattle of good breeding were never sought for in greater numbers.

Third—Because of the general cattle shortage throughout the whole North American continent and the shortage of dairy cows—producers of butter, cream, milk and veal.

Fourth—Because the monthly dairy check regularly given at the first of each month is a farm profit check that the dairyman can bank on regardless of weather or climatic conditions. He can always grow, no matter what kind of a season, plenty of forage that dairy cows can turn into dairy products.

Fifth—Because modern equipment has reduced the former hard, cow-keeping drudgery to a pleasant labor and increased profits, so that dairying is now the most pleasant and profitable department on the farm.

That's why I advise every farmer to buy more cows—more good cows—for if ever there was a time in the history of the United States when it paid to go into the dairy business, that time is today.

Good Cows Profitable.

The part that good cows play in profitable dairying was visibly shown in a demonstration at the Indiana state fair. The dairy extension department of the state experiment station secured six cows from the herd of a dairyman in the edge of Indianapolis who sold milk in the city.

In order to determine the production of these cows, records were kept for a period of eight days and these they were all in about the same period of lactation the results were quite comparable. The cost of the feed was also recorded.

The total profit from the six cows in the above mentioned time was not as much as the total profit from the three best cows. In other words, three of the cows made a loss and the owner actually paid for the privilege of milking them. If he had known them to be unprofitable, he could have disposed of them, cut the labor bill in two and still would have netted a greater total profit. Would it pay this man to keep records?

In looking over these animals it was easy to select the good ones. The cows that made a loss were beef animals. Their ancestors had probably been bred and selected to convert feed into body fat, while the profitable ones were grade Holsteins and Jerseys.

The latter were only responding to an inherent and intensified character—that of milk production—which had been encouraged in their ancestors for years. Another feature that was demonstrated was the market that the various cows provided for the grain they consumed. In arriving at the profit or loss made by them, the feed was sold to them at market price. The best cow of the six returned $185 for each dollar's worth of feed which she consumed, while the most unprofitable one returned only seventy-five cents.

Would it not be appropriate for every man who keeps a cow to apply the same acid test?—The Fruit Grower.

Margin of Profit Best of Big Farms

Under the conditions which prevail on the average American farm, the opportunity for making a satisfactory profit varies directly with the number of acres farmed, according to farm management specialists in the department.

This statement is substantiated by figures gathered in the course of a survey which has recently been made by the department of a portion of Chester county, Pennsylvania. This survey, in the opinion of the specialists, emphasizes what has been called the "small-farm fallacy", which is discussed at some length in a bulletin soon to be issued. Farm Management Practice of Chester County, Pennsylvania.

In the territory surveyed, farms of from thirty to forty acres required for each crop acre $15 worth of machinery on an average, as compared with less than $9 worth on farms of 160 acres and over. The small sized farms needed one horse for every nine acres, as compared with one horse for more than seven acres on the larger holdings. In spite of this increased investment an acre, the small farms were not so well equipped with labor-saving machinery.

Small Farms Handicapped.
On the farms of from thirteen to forty acres the average labor income—that is to say, the money which the farmer receives for his year's work after the interest on his investment has been deducted—was only $240, while on farms of over 160 acres the average was $1,575. From these and other figures which convey the same lesson, the investigators concluded that the small farm, carrying on a general farming business, labors under a fixed handicap that is inherent in its size.

This relation of the size of the farm to the opportunity for profit is declared in the bulletin already mentioned to be of vital interest because of the notion which so widely prevails that the ideal of American agriculture is the small farm. Numerous real estate promotion schemes are based on this idea. It is a distinct fallacy.

Locality Immaterial.
Very small farms are difficult to make successful anywhere, and it is only the exceptional man who is equal to the task. They must always be devoted to the most intensive types of farming, and the products of most kinds of intensive farming fluctuate greatly in volume and price, so that the business is very insecure.

The danger is greatly magnified if the small farm is situated a long distance from market, for prices for their products do not have to fall very far until the transportation charges wipe out all profits. Even in the vicinity of the better markets these farms succeed only in localities where they have distinct advantages for the particular type of farming which they follow.

HARE AND HOUND CHASE.

The Intermediates and Seniors and the Junior Classes will each have a Hare and Hound Chase Thanksgiving morning. The chases will start at the Y. M. C. A. building at half past nine o'clock, the Juniors going toward the east and the Intermediates and Seniors going toward the west. A ball will be cast a little before nine-thirty to determine who the Hares will be, and they will be given a five minute start, and then the chase will be on. The trail will not go beyond the city limits. Quite a few have already signed up in each division and the chases promises to be a very interesting affair.

BILLY SUNDAY IN SYRACUSE.

F. G. Garland has received from a friend at Syracuse, New York, a paper, the Post-Standard, containing an account of the meetings being conducted by Billy Sunday in that city. The large newspaper devotes two whole pages to the evangelist as it does about every day. It says that at two services there were 19,000 in attendance and 1,600 went forward. At a previous meeting 2,600 "struck the trail" and as Mr. Sunday saw the largest number which had ever done so at one time he wept like a child. He seems to have the same success in Syracuse that he has everywhere.

COACH W. T. HARMON HAS SPLENDID CAREER IN ATHLETICS

Brings Two Championship Titles to Old Illinois During 1915—Has Studied Under Best Trainers and Knows Fine Points of Various Sports.

Perhaps no name is better known among athletes of Illinois than that of Coach W. T. Harmon, and the recent victory which Illinois college won when they annexed the championship honors of the "Little Sixteen" conference, has made it still more widely known. Mr. Harmon became a student of Whipple academy and it was during his senior year that he played the position of substitute on the Varsity squad. That was in 1902. In his freshman year he became one of the regulars and was a member of the eleven until his graduation in 1907. He played the position of end and the last two years that of halfback. Everyone remembers the splendid team Illinois had in 1904 when they won a majority of their hard fought struggles, and no little credit was given to Mr.

Harmon for the part he played in the victories.

After his graduation from Illinois college he held the position of coach for three years at St. Mary's College in Kentucky.

In the fall of 1910 he was appointed coach at Illinois college, a position he had filled since. Coach Harmon has been a close student of the game and has studied its various phases from every angle. In the fall of 1913 he went to Carlisle, Pa., and was a student of Coach Warner of the Carlisle Indians. Warner is now coach of Pittsburg University and his team has had the distinction of not losing a game this year. In 1914 Harmon took a summer course at the University of Illinois under the famous Zuppke. Coach Zuppke's team last year won the championship of western colleges and this year tied for the championship honors with Minnesota. Last summer Mr. Harmon went to school under Dr. Henry L. Williams, coach of the Minnesota University. Thus it will be seen that he has constantly been adding new thoughts and new ideas to his special line of work, thereby fitting himself to give better and more efficient service.

Under the coaching of Harmon, Illinois college athletes have become a potent factor in the school as well as in the entire conference. There have been no sudden flashes of brilliant team work that lasted for only a season, but there has been manifested that gradual solid growth which is of so much importance. The championship team which Coach Harmon turned out this year is an example of his method of work and shows how step by step, year by year, his team has gradually developed. If it had not been for injuries to players last year he would have undoubtedly captured the flag for Illinois.

The showing of the eleven this year must be a great satisfaction to Coach Harmon, and not only has their ability been recognized at home but throughout the entire state. There is nothing sensational about Coach Harmon, but he possesses that indefatigable spirit of work and labor that is sure in the end to bring success. His ability not only to recognize what his own men can do but to measure and weigh the strength of his opponent has been demonstrated by the manner in which he met and defeated the stronger teams of the conference this year.

A commendable point in his coaching is that all the members of the team respect him highly and no one ever hears a word of dissent when he gives his orders. This unity of purpose, the willingness to let the other fellow have the honor if it is necessary in order to win for old Illinois, has been the thing which he has held up before the players. He has endeavored to develop every man to the highest point of perfection. He does not assume any superiority as a coach, nor is he moved by compliments, and even now he is looking forward to next year and will endeavor to give the best of his time and efforts toward athletes.

The winning of the intercollegiate track meet at Peoria last May, and the track meet of 1914, and the football championship this fall gives to the college three especially coveted victories in the past year and a half of which every loyal alumnus and friend of the college is grateful to Coach Harmon for the part he played in the victories.

DRESSING ROOM OF ELEVEN LIKE FIELD HOSPITAL

Adhesive Tape Is Used in Such Quantities Men Can Hardly Walk.

"Where am I; in a German field hospital after an engagement with the allies?"

A man was standing in the dressing room of a university football team; he was looking about him, with amazement written large on his countenance; the players were donning their togs for the game to be played that afternoon, but to the man it appeared that they must have just returned from the battlefield, wounded and patched up by the surgeons.

"Why, they must purchase the entire output of a firm which manufactures adhesive tape," continued the man. And there was reason for his assertion.

One player had ten yards of tape wound around his body, from beneath his armpits to his belt line; the trainer said he had a cracked rib. Another athlete had both ankles incased in the adhesive tape; he had strained some tendons in these important assets to pedal propulsion.

A third had his right knee bound so tightly with the "stick-out" bandage that one wondered how he was able to walk, let alone run; he had water on the knee, or something of the sort.

And so it went. Not a regular or a substitute had escaped a visit to the physician and his adhesive tape. If it was not a hand, it was a foot that required "strapping"; if it was not a rib, it was a knee or an ankle. Muscles, bones, tendons, ligaments, possibly nerves—were bruised, broken, torn, and, very likely, lost, strayed or stolen.

Is it any wonder that the man who looked at this company of "strapped-up" athletes was amazed and shocked? For the man was a veteran football player. He fought gridiron battles back in the 90s, when head guards were virtually unknown; shoulder, hip and knee pads were seldom used by star players, and the only "strapping-up" done was the occasional bandaging of a minor fracture, or a cut, with old-fashioned "T" e tape.

And, strange as it may seem, when the dad of the present-day football player was fighting battles for his university, the game was looked upon as very rough, indeed. The flying wedge, the guards back and tackle, back, and many other mass plays, which were supposed to be so dangerous to life and limb that they were legislated out of the gridiron sport, were popular before the "strapping-up" period, too.

Why, then, the change? When football has been "opened up" so that serious injury is minimized; when a player goes on the field with virtually every "hurttable" spot padded; when each university has one or more trainers who condition the warriors to withstand hard knocks, and when a player may be removed from the conflict, rested and returned when he again is fit, why do the players suffer so many sprains, bruises and fractures?

Is the young man of today less hardy than was his daddy? Is the football player of this decade more susceptible to injury than the man who played the game twenty and more years ago?

These are questions which cannot be easily answered by the layman. But the fact remains that this is the "padding and strapping-up" era of the major college game, and there must be a reason for it.

Time was when the mollycoddles called football brutal. A player would come out of a game with a broken nose, puffed lips, blackened eyes and possibly a dislocation. His uniform might be stained with the gore of the battle. But his hurts invariably were external and easily remedied. He did not go into the next game with 100 yards of adhesive bound around the many sore spots of his body.

Of course, it may be admitted, for the sake of argument, that the advance of the medical science has had much to do with this "strapping-up." Certain it is that Dr. Frank Hancock, who looks after the physical welfare of the University of Pennsylvania gridiron warriors, has worked wonders. His expert ministrations have permitted players to enter games in perfect safety, when, without his services, they might have been assisted to the side line beach and remained there. Dr. Hancock has made a study of the hurts that are common in football camps, and he knows what is best calculated to repair them.

CONGRESSMAN MEKEER SPEAKS AT ST. LOUIS SUFRAGE LUNCHEON

Asserts He Had Been Told Women in Denver Said Their Votes for $50 Each.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23.—Congressman Jacob E. Meeker of St. Louis, in addressing a suffrage luncheon here today said that in Denver, so it had been told, women sold their votes for fifty dollars each and that the votes of society women there could be bought with theater tickets.

The remarks of Congressman Meeker created an uproar and several women sprang to their feet to answer him. Miss Mary Barker quieted the women by saying, let Mr. Meeker continue his able exposition of Mr. Meeker.

When the congressman attempted to leave the room, several women blocked his path and hurled suffrage arguments at him. Mrs. Kate O'Shara said the women who sold their vote for fifty dollars showed more intelligence than the man who sold his vote for a glass of beer.

Congressman Meeker said there was danger in giving the women the ballot for they would go to greater lengths than men in pushing the policies they favored. Even wiser better friends of women, he said, than were women and men could be trusted to legislate for women.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hembrough were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chancey Carter.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

DENIAL THAT BLOCKADE OF GREECE IS IN FORCE LIFTS WHEAT

Reports Operate As More Than An Offset for Early Declines—Corn Shows Decided Strength.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Denials that any Greek ships were being held up or that a blockade of Greece was in force operated as more than an offset today for early declines in the wheat market here. The close was nervous but at the same as yesterday's finish to 3/4c higher with December $1.03 1/2 and May $1.06 1/2. Corn gained 1 1/4c, and oats 3/4c to 1/2c.

In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 2 1/2c up.

Announcement that for the first time this season the world's available supply total exceeded the amount for the corresponding date last year was one of the chief reasons of heaviness in the wheat market during the first part of the session. Other causes even more effective were favorable weather, liberal receipts and new high record ocean freight rates, especially to the Mediterranean.

Wheat showed decided strength and climbed to about the highest prices so far on the crop. Meagerness of receipts at terminal markets was the principal incentive to buyers.

Some of the purchasing in the southwest appeared to be for export. Oats were dominated by the action of corn.

The bulk of the business was of a local character.

Provision trading was active and at times excited. Sharp advances which scored in nearly all options resulted largely from a rise in cotton oil market and because the light weight average of hog arrivals precluded the free manufacture of lard.

DEALINGS IN STOCKS DIMINISH; STEADY TONE IS MAINTAINED

Automobile Shares Rise 2 to 4 Points and War Issues Gain Almost as Much.

New York, Nov. 23.—Trading in stocks today was perfunctory and superficial from start to finish. Dealings diminished to the meager total of 338,000 shares. A steady tone was maintained throughout but this was due more to the absence of pressure than to actual demand.

Automobile shares rose 2 to 4 points, war issues gained almost as much. United States Steel fluctuated within the narrow range of a half point and Bethlehem Steel was again utterly ignored.

Coppers were steady but failed to make further response to the increased demand for the metal.

Canadian Pacific's rise of 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 was almost the only noteworthy movement in the rails, although Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Erie and the new and old Rock Island issues showed signs of moderate accumulation. Canadian Pacific lost much of its gain before the dull close in the way of general news the foreign demand for steel was among the chief constructive features. According to trade authorities the question of price is no longer a consideration, while domestic consumers are willing to pay premiums for what they can get. Further large receipts of gold from England were reported in payment of munitions and the Bank of England released another large amount of the precious metal for shipment to this country. Exchange on London worked back to the highest quotation in many weeks, demand for sterling selling as high as 4.70 1/2; with other markets firmer in sympathy. Remittances of Scandinavian exchanges were especially large.

MARKET LETTERS

Oliver S. Green, with Walter Brothers, U. S. Yards, Chicago, reports the estimated receipts for Monday, Nov. 22, 1915:

Cattle 23,000
Hogs 47,000
Sheep 20,000

The supply of medium and common cattle was excessive and the run had not been picked over by noon. Prime selected steers of different weights; others unevenly lower, and the rank and file had no trading basis until late in the afternoon, and then dull and 10 to 15c lower on all but well-fattened lots. Four carloads of extra steers weighing about 1,545 sold for $10.30, with double extra steers and heifers averaging 1,044 at $10.30. Only a small number of carloads $9.75 to $9.85. A large number of sales $7.00 to $8.50, with many down to $6.50 and below. Cattle from the sort-corn region were in excessive supply and no outlet for all such kinds, with numerous lots unsold at the close of the matinee session. Forty-two carloads of Canadans composed the bulk of the western ranges, and that market weak to lower, and sales made too late to give definite reports as to prices and weights.

Native Beef Cattle Quotations.
Good to prime heavy heaves, $9.35 to $10.30.
Good to prime handy heaves, $9.65 to $10.50.
Good to prime yearlings, $9.00 to $10.50.
Common to fair yearlings, $7.35 to $8.75.
Good to choice corn-feds, $8.35 to $9.25.

Medium to good handy short feds, $7.35 to $8.25.
Common to medium warmed ups, $6.35 to $7.25.
Common to plain grass steers, $5.50 to $6.35.
Inferior to rough grass steers, $4.25 to $5.50.

Butcher she stock sold generally steady with last Thursday. Cheap and medium classes got best call. Canners strong. Bulls about steady. Vealers like last Friday.

Butcher Stock Quotations.
Medium and fat cows, $4.00 to $7.10.
Canners and cutters, $3.00 to $4.60.
Heifers, $4.25 to $8.50.
Choice to fancy corn-finished classes, $5.75 to $9.50.
Bulls, $4.25 to $6.65.
Common heavy calves to good vealers, $9.00 to $9.75.

The run of hogs fell several thousand short of the anticipated run. Early calls 50,000, late 45,000 to 47,000. The market opened strong to 5c higher; bulk 10c higher, although the top of $6.80 was but 5c higher. Pigs, 15 to 25c up.

Hog Quotations.
Mixed packing, $5.90 to $6.35.
Medium and butchers, $6.40 to $6.60.
Heavy packing, $6.10 to $6.55.
Rough heavy throwouts, $5.75 to $6.15.
Light weights, $5.65 to $6.20.
Select packing and shipping, $6.30 to $6.80.

Pigs and roughs, $2.00 to $6.40.
Fat sheep and lambs sold generally 10 to 15c higher; best fed western lambs reached $9.16; many handy lots, 9c; light yearlings, up to $7.25; best aged ewes, $5.75.

Fed western lambs, $7.00 to $9.10.
Native lambs, $6.50 to $9.00.
Native ewes, $3.00 to $5.75.
Native yearlings, $6.50 to $7.25.
Fed western ewes, $4.00 to $5.65.

Fed western yearlings, $6.00 to $7.25.
Native wethers, $6.25.
Bucks, $4.00 to $4.50.

Thanksgiving week always furnishes a big supply of poultry, and to prevent a further decline in cattle the run must materially decrease later in the week. O. S. GREEN.

KANSAS CITY MARKET.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 22.—The stocker and feeder trade outdid itself last week, when 37,000 stock cattle went to country points, three times as many as during the corresponding week a year ago. Sales embraced a full variety and prices averaged 10 to 15 cents above the previous week. Choice Panhandle and Colorado yearlings sold freely at $7.00 to $7.75 and choice Panhandle 1,000 to 1,100 pound feeders sold at $7.00 to $7.30, some fancy bred Panhandle feeders at $7.65. Steers for immediate short feeding went to Illinois up to $8.50. These were heavy weights, having had some grain. A fair number of cattle were bought for points in the corn belt, where summer feeding is the rule, while heavy shipments of cows and light weight stockers were made to points in Kansas and Oklahoma, where wheat pasture and forage feed will enable farmers to carry them through the winter at small expense. Colorado and New Mexico rangemen also bid for the thin cattle, and a world of stockers were shipped out during the week at $5.75 to $8.50. There was a fairly heavy holdover Saturday, 11,000 head, but it was smaller than the holdover at the end of the previous week. Receipts today are 33,000 head, several thousand more than the highest guesses last week. The supply has the usual large percentage of stockers and feeders, and as the Thanksgiving holiday cuts into the week, it is going to be some question how to get rid of the accumulation. The receipts come from every quarter, as heretofore, and there is a full variety offered. Fancy Panhandle yearlings sold at $7.40 to $7.75, best bred Colorado yearlings and 2's $7.00 to $7.50, two or three strings of choice Panhandle 3-year-old feeders at $7.00 to $7.25, a large number of middle class stockers and feeders at $6.00 to $6.75, and some useful stock cattle, including good-sized pens of Colorados at $5.65 to $5.90. Fancy stock heifers weighing under 500 pounds brought $8.00 today, but the limit on good stock heifers is around $6.50, stock cows around $5.25. Feeding lambs are lower than heretofore, some 58-pound Mexicans today at $8.10, others downward to $7.50; breeding ewes 50 cents lower, $5.00 to $6.75; feeding ewes around $4.25. Immune stock hogs are plentiful, at $7.50 to $8.50. J. A. RICKART, Market Correspondent.

RECENT OPERATION
TOOK HIS STRENGTH

Telephone Wire Chief Was in a Much Rundown Condition Until He Took Tanlac.

MEDICINE BROUGHT STRENGTH

Among the many statements being made daily in connection with the new preparation, Tanlac, none is more interesting than the one which was made last week by R. W. Moltke, wire chief for the Interstate Telephone Company of Peoria, Ill., and who resides at 501 Morgan street in that city. Mr. Moltke said: "Owing to an operation which was recently performed, I have been in very poor health. My whole system has been out of order and there were times when I became intensely nervous and I suffered with a continued dullness in the head. I felt tired and worn out all day and I could not sleep at night. My digestion was poor and I was almost always constipated. As soon as I would eat anything my stomach would fill with gas and I would be distressed for half an hour or more. In this rundown condition I contracted cold easily and suffered with severe coughs. I tried several remedies to build up my system but nothing seemed to do me a particle of good.

"About ten days or two weeks ago I decided to try this Tanlac preparation. I got a bottle of this medicine and I am glad I did for Tanlac has proved a wonderful remedy in my case.

"The old tired out feeling has left me and I seem to have new life and energy. I now sleep all night and get up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work. I have a fine appetite and relish everything I eat. I am fast gaining strength and am only too glad to recommend Tanlac to my friends and those who are suffering as I was.

"Tanalac, the 'Master Medicine', referred to in the above statement, is now being sold in Jacksonville at the well known drug store of Coover & Shreve.—Adv.

A CHILD GETS CROSS,
SICK AND FEVERISH
WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoon full of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

TO END WEST VIRGINIA DEBT OF LONG STANDING

Liability by Recent Supreme Court
Was Fixed at Over Twelve Million Dollars.

Washington, Nov. 23.—A settlement of the long standing dispute between the States of Virginia and West Virginia over the division of the state debt of Virginia which existed at the time of the partition of the state, is expected to be reached at a meeting which begins here today. The Virginia-West Virginia Debt Commission meets here jointly, and it is freely rumored that an adjustment more favorable to West Virginia than the recent award by the Supreme Court of the United States may be reached. When the Supreme Court issued its decision last June, a total of over twelve millions was the liability fixed on West Virginia. This vast sum included $4,215,622.28 as West Virginia's share of the state debt or Virginia at the time of the separation, and over eight millions as interest on this sum for 54 years and 8 months. Since the award was announced, there has been much dissatisfaction with the interest granted on the debt, and threats of repudiation were freely made in West Virginia.

It is conceded that the Supreme Court has the power to enforce its decree, by collecting the award from West Virginia and turning it over to Virginia. However, another method has been talked over, and the calm following the storm has brought judgment to bear on both sides. A plan will be formulated at today's meeting for the payment of the award to extend over a period of years, it is said, and this plan will be submitted to the voters of West Virginia for their approval or rejection.

The litigation between Virginia and her daughter state, West Virginia, is now nearly a half century old. West Virginia was born as a "child of the war," and President Lincoln signed the act of Congress which admitted the new state. It has always been recognized by the citizens that West Virginia was justly liable for a share of the state debt of Virginia, existing at the time of the separation, but no adjustment could be reached that satisfied the government of both states. Thus it was thrown into the federal courts for decision. West Virginia maintained without qualification that it was not obligated to pay interest on its share of the debt. The defeat of this contention is a staggering blow to a state already deeply in debt and in financial plight. Governor Hatfield was obliged to apply the veto to many appropriations for schools, hospitals, and colleges, within the past year.

In addition to the award of $12,399,929.50, which West Virginia must pay, unless another mutual agreement is made, interest at 5 per cent a year began on July 1 of this year. The state of Virginia, through its counsel, has filed with the Supreme Court an application that a receiver be appointed for West Virginia, to assess and collect the obligation and pay it to Virginia. This application is held in abeyance until the joint commissions have threshed out the matter.

The population of West Virginia is about 1,250,000. The state has no debt other than that which the Supreme Court saddled upon West Virginia. The only debt acknowledged by the state was wiped out in 1895. The state has a permanent school fund of a million dollars. To meet the burden of the apportioned debt, assuming the state is able to sell its bonds at 3 per cent, an additional tax of 40 cents per capita must be collected for the next third of a century.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Winona, Minn.—Mrs. Charlotte B. Chorpennin, who has won the Craig prize in dramatic composition at Harvard, for her play "Between the Lines," to be produced at a theater in Boston, is now engaged in staging the Shakespeare centenary pageant in Winona, her home city. All of the school children of this city will take part in the great pageant next spring. Mrs. Chorpennin is a widow and her prize-winning play was her first big attempt. The scenes are laid in New York and Mexico. "He lived at Vera Cruz until the death of her husband, and it is there she secured the atmosphere for her play."

New York.—The American fashion followers have their eyes on New York today, for the Paris originators are staging eighty of their models at the Ritz-Carlton, and there has been a flutter of excitement as to how far the new models will affect the American styles. Eight prominent Paris houses have formed a syndicate to prevent what they term the "pirating" of models. Forgetting their previous rivalries, the great houses of Callot, Doucet, Lanvin, Jenny, Worth, Blanchet, Ferrier, Bremet and Poiret have formed an offensive and defensive alliance and the grand opening today of their combined forces puts in the shade any other fashion event of recent years.

San Francisco.—One of the most interesting women at the exposition last week was Mrs. Ann Maria Miles Sprague, sister of Gen. Nelson A. Miles, the famous American soldier. She is 79 years old, and is touring the country with the greatest relish. Her home is at the old Miles homestead in Westminster, Mass.

Tokio, Japan.—Japanese records of recent years show a surprisingly great number of women engaging in new occupations and, in many cases, surpassing in them. Mrs. Inosuke Senno is the first woman of Japan to become the president of a bank. She was more than 70 years old when she personally established the Senno Bank of Commerce. She is active, mentally alert and keen.

Boston.—Mrs. James J. Storrow, a sister of Thomas Mott Osborn, the famous prison reformer, believes that many women mistake fashion for beauty. "For 3,000 years," she says, "we have known the ideal shape of human beings, yet have persistently disfigured ourselves and spent infinite time and money mistaking fashion for beauty. The efficient woman will know the natural use of the body and will insist on freedom of exercise, and to have health, grace and beauty. Perhaps the woman who wears shoes so small she cannot walk is as bad as the one who stumps along on flat heels, jarring her system. Find out where you are weak, and strengthen yourself. One is never too old to improve. Break through that shell of middle age. As for moral health, let's rid ourselves of prejudice."

PROTECTORS TO VISIT BIRDS IN WINTER QUARTERS

New York, Nov. 23.—U. S. Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut, Herbert K. Joh, economic entomologist of the Audubon Societies, and T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies, will start tomorrow for a tour of the winter quarters of game birds in Louisiana. They are leaders in conservation of wild birds, and are interested to see how the waterfowl are protected by the government tracts. Senator McLean is the father of the celebrated bill known as the Federal Migratory Bird Act that provides protection for all migratory birds of the country. The reports reaching here relative to the success of the reservation of 300,000 acres of marsh land as a resting place for the harassed waterfowl, has lured him to make the trip with the naturalists.

REPORT ON SOLDIERS' HOME MADE BY SECRETARY

High Praise for Management of the Institution and the Old Soldiers.

Recently A. L. Bowen, acting secretary for the State Charities Commission, made an inspection of the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Quincy. This is the home of which John E. Andrew is superintendent.

The report of that inspection by Mr. Bowen has just been made public. Doubtless there is some interest throughout the state in at least the more important features of this report. Old soldiers are there from every part of the state.

Mr. Bowen's report is too lengthy to be given in full, also it enters into details that are of interest only to those who have a somewhat intimate acquaintance with the home. The following are extracts from the report of Mr. Bowen, an effort being made to get the portions that may be of general interest:

The health record at this home is its best recommendation. I have inspected this institution and have given special attention to sanitation and health.

First is the death rate. In June of this year there were six deaths; July had only fourteen.

Of the fourteen who died in July, the average age was 77-1-7 years. Four of them were over 80; only one was under 70. Their total age was 1,980 years.

So here we have an institution housing about 1,500 old people, of whom 1,100 or 1,200 are veterans of our American wars. Their average age is about 75 years. They are carrying the bruises, scars, infirmities and disabilities of the soldier's active life in actual war, yet they are so well cared for, their food so unobtrusive and their diet so regulated that I found today less than 200 in the hospital, of which number not more than a dozen were in bed. The demented and paralyzed men were few and about and were being attended to; yet in the three months of summer there have been only twenty-six deaths.

Such a record speaks well, of course, for the stock from which our Civil war soldiers were drawn, but it is equally to the credit of a humane state that in their declining years and in their weaknesses and disabilities they are so well succored.

Nor would it be fair not to pay just compliment to the deportment and conduct of the men and women of this home.

Intoxication is the failing of a very few. In recent months what is known as "court" wherein serious breaches of personal conduct must be investigated and adjudicated has been necessary only occasionally.

Praise is due to the civil and military officials, to the employees of the street car company, and to the people of Quincy in general, for their very sincere and kindly attention and protection which they give to the members of the home.

Robberies and like offenses against the men are almost unknown. The police and sheriff co-operate with the home officials in looking after the welfare of these men. The attitude of the newspapers toward them and the home is good.

Wednesday night, Aug. 25, electric wires set fire to the roof of the street railway waiting station in front of the administration building. The city fire department was called to extinguish the flames. This serves to recall the unpreparedness of this institution to fight fire. It has never suffered from this cause, but in case it did, the city department would have to be depended upon. The city pressure at the home grounds is not sufficient to be of use without a steamer. There is little fire fighting apparatus on the grounds. In the buildings there are fire buckets on every floor and small hose reels. In the hospital corridors there are fire

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live."

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

hose, but of small dimensions, and if the pressure were not high it would be of little value.

The cottages with three or four exceptions are only two stories high, but there is only one stairway connecting the floors. The three-story cottages are a menace to the men who want to sleep on the third or attic floor, for there is only one stairway to the second floor and small facility for escape by outside means.

All these years the home has run along under these conditions. Ten years ago the men were able to take care of themselves much more readily than they could today under stress of panic and danger.

Supt. Andrew has prepared a report covering the last three years—each year ending June 30—in which he shows that on the productive side of the institution there has been a decreasing expense and increasing income.

The receipts from the garden, farm and dairy, either consumed by the institution or cash for same remitted to state treasurer, were as follows:

Year ending June 30—
1913 $16,551
1914 15,137
1915 $20,765

The expenses on account of the farm, garden, including, dairy and horses barns, stock feed, veterinary service, etc.,

Year ending June 30—
1913 $14,768
1914 13,520
1915 11,832

On May 20, 1913, there was a deposit in various trust funds of $27,000 drawing no interest. Since May 20, 1913, interest has been collected totaling $1,854.

The average cost per capita of the thirty-one state homes for the year ending June 30th, 1913 was $291.26. That of the Illinois home was $156.77. During that year the state received from the federal government in support of this home the sum of $117,378.

In this connection, he submits figures from official reports showing that the per capita cost at Quincy is very much lower than the average homes for soldiers and sailors. For the fiscal year ending June 20, 1915, the Illinois home reported a per capita of $156.77, the lowest among the thirty-one. North Dakota's was highest with $498.10. New York reported with $240 at Bath and $252 at Oxford, and Pennsylvania $315. are of Illinois class in population, so that fair comparison may be drawn between the two.

The population today is 1,103 men and 249 women, a total of 1,352. The indications are that the home will be more crowded than ever this winter. Thirteen married couples are now separated because there are no accommodations in which they can be placed.

ROMANCE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL LEADERS

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23.—A pretty romance is that of Miss Helen Forbes, a St. Louis Sunday school worker, and Preston G. Orwig, an officer in the Pennsylvania Sunday School Association, who will marry here today. The romance began at Lake Geneva, at a meeting of Sunday School workers. Indian naming is one of the unique features at Lake Geneva, and Miss Forbes was duly named "Gash-kit-on," or "The Winner." In her Indian role, she met "Wadjepl," or "The Nimble One," in the person of Orwig, and they played Indian sports and did their courting in the manner of the primitive Americans. The romance was watched by the Sunday school leaders, and many of the paleface Indians will come to the wedding. Rev. Gove G. Johnson of Washington, D. C., an uncle of the bride will perform the ceremony.

Joseph F. Kamp of Kameville, Calhoun county, was attending to business matters in the city yesterday.

Men Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

"I am not surprised to observe in the faces of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend' a remark like a leading druggist.

The expectant mother if she has heard of this splendid emulsion probably not reading the papers to my extent. And if she does it is a happy thought to send hubby to the drug store. "Mother's Friend" is applied externally over the abdominal muscles.

It is a soothing, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the fine network of nerves beneath the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain to which these broad, flat abdominal muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to stretch without the corresponding surface strain so often involved during the period of expectation. This in part accounts for the entire absence, in many cases reported, of nausea, morning sickness and other distresses. And particularly to young mothers is this remedial application of inestimable value since in thus keeping the muscles firm but pliant it enables them to go through the ordeal without laceration of the epidermis so often the case when this gentle form of lubrication is neglected.

"Mother's Friend" is highly recommended by a host of women. Write Bradfield Regulator Co., 703 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and we will send you a valuable little book to expectant mothers. The effect of this splendid external application is an expression of the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through the generations.

Miss Mabel Hart to
Wed. C. H. Whitlock.

At a party given by Misses Alma Story and Miss Bess Hart at Murrayville Monday evening, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Mabel Hart and Mr. C. H. Whitlock, the ceremony to take place during the Christmas holidays. Members of the Plus Ultra Sunday School class of the Methodist Episcopal church of which the bride-to-be is a member, were the guests. The announcement was made by means of letters which when opened contained pictures of the Murrayville school and of a country home, with the sentence "From the school room to Home Sweet Home". Games were played during the evening and the refreshments were unique in that the ice cream was molded into various novelties which a bride would wish on her wedding day. Pink and white were the colors used in the decorations.

Miss Hart is a teacher in the Murrayville public school and is accounted one of the successful instructors of Morgan county. Mr. Whitlock is a farmer and both he and Miss Hart have always resided in that community.

JURY REACHES SPEEDY VERDICT IN COX SUICIDE INQUEST

Victim of Self Inflicted Gunshot
Wounds Dies Tuesday Morning
Without Regaining Consciousness

Albert Cox, the young man who shot himself twice Monday afternoon, died at Our Savior's hospital at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning without regaining consciousness. Following his death Coroner Wright was notified and the body was removed to Reynolds' undertaking establishment. A jury was summoned composed of John R. Hill, foreman; James Trahey, J. H. Campbell, George W. Smith, George R. Paxton and M. C. Hook, clerk.

The only witness before the jury was W. T. Pierman with whom Cox had lived for many years. Nothing in addition to the facts as published in the Journal Tuesday morning were found. After hearing Mr. Pierman's evidence the jury returned a verdict to the effect that "Cox came to his death by gunshot wounds from his 32 calibre revolver, self inflicted."

The funeral will be held from Sulphur Springs church Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

JACKSONVILLE HIGH WILL MEET PAWNEE HIGH TOMORROW

Thanksgiving Day Game Will End Series for Local High Football Eleven.

Jacksonville High school football team will play their last game of the season tomorrow at 2:30 on Innis field, when they meet the Pawnee high squad. The local men have been playing a hard schedule this season with the exception of the Carrollton game have lost every one. The boys are determined to wind up the season with a better showing than in the former games and with this aim in view have been putting in some hard licks practicing.

Pawnee is practically an unknown quantity, but they are conceded to have a strong eleven. They were defeated by Springfield 14 to 6 and Springfield proved a bear cat to Jacksonville. Pawnee has on the squad Jordan, who distinguished himself last spring as a sprinter at the big Illinois college track meet. He was picked by Coach Wentz of Springfield as all state end. He plays full back on the Pawnee team.

Coach Huber has announced the following lineup:
Pierke, right end.
Robinson, right tackle.
Cully, right guard.
Sorrells, center.
Priest or Smith, quarter back.
Herring, full back.
John Larson will probably referee the game.

Good Results of Road Oiling.
Persons having occasion to use the Liberty church road are very complacent over its condition as the oiling it gets puts in in wonderfully fine shape. The road immediately north of the city and a part of the state road east of the city are also examples of the good effects of oiling and from year to year more oiling and dragging will be done much to the benefit of our highways.
